THE INTRODUCTION OF MANDATORY PALLIATIVE CARE TRAINING IN POSTGRADUATE MEDICAL SCHOOLS IN ITALY

On the 17th of July 2020, Italian legislation (Law no. 77/20) was introduced establishing training in Palliative Care as a mandatory component of postgraduate specialization in medical schools. Furthermore, the decree stipulated the institution of compulsory training in Children's Palliative Care for the specialisation course in Paediatric Medicine. The Health Minister, Roberto Speranza, declared: "Medical professionals in Italy will be increasingly prepared to assist patients and their families with dignity and compassion at all times."

This important attainment is the highest recognition of the sustained and resolute campaign of palliative care advocates over several decades. This ground-breaking directive will increment the preparation of clinicians in complex issue such as the management of incurable illness and end-of-life care delivery.

The introduction of mandatory Paediatric Palliative Care training for the specialization in Paediatrics Medicine endorses the Maruzza Foundation's longstanding position regarding the unique needs of children with serious/incurable illness who require child-specific palliative care programs tailored to their individual needs and delivered by skilled care teams coordinated by the child's paediatrician or the family's GP.

FIRMA LA PETIZIONE

#ACASAÈPIÙMEGLIO. OUR PETITION IN FAVOUR OF THE RIGHT TO HOME CARE

At the end of May this year, ten years after the introduction of legislation regulating palliative care services in Italy, the Maruzza Foundation launched an important petition directed at the Minister of Health and the Presidents of the Regional Health Authorities requesting them to uphold the right of children with serious illness to be treated within their local communities permitting them to maintain a normal family life and continue their regular activities.

In fact, Law 38/2010 stipulated the development of regional children's palliative care networks throughout the country, however, a broad disregard for this directive has led to a severe lack of dedicated services in some regions. In Italy there are approximately 30,000 babies children and young adults affected by serious illnesses with palliative care needs, which are best delivered in the home setting or in a local dedicated facility.

The World Health Organization defined palliative care as "an ethical responsibility and a moral imperative of health systems" adding, however, that, "access to palliative care and systems relief is very rare in a number of countries. As a result, millions of the world's vulnerable children suffer unnecessarily each year".

During the current Healthcare emergency this right can no longer be ignored.

So begin the reflections by the Maruzza Foundation's Scientific Director, Dr. Franca Benini, Director of the Veneto Regional Centre for Paediatric Palliative Care and Pain Management at the University Hospital in Padua.
